

The 11th Annual Conference of THE ASIAN PEOPLES'
ANTI-COMMUNIST LEAGUE
which met in Manila, the Philippines, in September 7-12, 1965
addresses this appeal to the 20th Session of the United Nations General Assembly

We, representing the peoples of the countries of Asia and elsewhere, oppose the admission of the Chinese Communist regime to the United Nations.

We believe that the admission of this aggressive regime would inevitably be regarded as placing a stamp of approval on the aggressive acts perpetrated by Peiping. Such a move would spell disaster for the United Nations itself.

The peoples of Asia are opposed to Chinese Communist expansionism. They do not want to see their precious hard-won freedom and independence subverted by the lawless men in Peiping, who are dedicated to the goal of world revolution by force. They know, in each of their countries, how the tentacles of Peiping reach out for conquest. They know, too, that in many troubled spots of the world, the Peiping regime is making determined efforts to stir up and support so-called "wars of national liberation."

The Communist aggression in South Vietnam has brought untold misery and suffering to a land once serene and free. Today it is Vietnam; tomorrow it may be any of us. If you, distinguished delegates to the United Nations General Assembly, should admit the unrepentant Chinese Communist regime to your councils, you would only enhance its prestige and power in the world community. You would doom the Asian peoples to Communist enslavement.

The United Nations is dedicated to the maintenance of international peace and security and the upholding of the principles of justice under law. The Chinese Communist regime, both in words and in deeds, is a threat to world peace and security and contemptuous of law and justice. To admit such a regime would be to subvert the letter and violate the spirit of the Charter. To compound this betrayal by expelling the Republic of China—which has faithfully fulfilled its obligations under the U. N. Charter—in order to admit Red China—which flagrantly violates the Charter—would reduce the United Nations to being an accomplice of the Peiping peace-breakers. History has made it crystal clear that appeasement only invites further aggression. This was the lesson of Munich, and this was the course the League of Nations took to oblivion.

The undersigned believe in the purpose and principles of the United Nations. We are convinced that unless the forces of lawlessness and aggression are checked, there can be no durable peace. We therefore appeal to you, members of the United Nations, to consider the great dangers inherent in the admission of the Chinese Communist regime to the United Nations. You have an awesome responsibility. In your hands rests the future of Asia and of peace, freedom and justice in the whole world. We earnestly ask you to heed our appeal.
